

It has just come to my attention that Sinclair Broadcasting will force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is a clear abrogation of their duty to serve the public interest on public airwaves.

The documentary is nothing more than a prolonged anti-Kerry advertisement, and does not serve the public's need to know. Sinclair's actions are a clear violation of their obligation to the American public, and a clear example of the dangers of liberalizing media ownership.

I ask that the FCC forbid Sinclair to make this broadcast, and enforce the requirement that all broadcast media use public airwaves in a fair and balanced manner that benefits democracy and serves the community, and NOT their own corporate interests or political ideology.

Thank you.
